2005 :: TITLE TERPS!

"We have a saying in our locker room that says, 'The greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.' I am very proud of the persistence our program has shown to be here in this position today."

– Sasho Cirovski in the post-game press conference after Maryland's 1-0 win over New Mexico for the NCAA title.

Persistent, determined, and ultimately champions. The Maryland men's soccer team's ascent to the 2005 NCAA title was not a meteoric rise, a quick trip to the top of the mountain. It was a long road that was sprinkled with moments of brilliance and disappointment, but always total commitment to each other and a goal. The Terp program was not validated with a national championship, but only reinforced its position among the nation's elite.

The Terps opened the regular season in California, where they demonstrated their lethal offensive arsenal and easily disposed of Cal State Fullerton, 7-0. Maryland was quickly pulled back to earth, though, in its next game being handed a 4-0 defeat to UCLA.

The loss – along with playing in the friendly confines of Ludwig Field – helped to re-focus the Terps as they rattled off four convincing wins, two of which were against top-10 teams in Santa Clara and Virginia Commonwealth.

Despite plenty of confidence, the Terps lost their next two games – back-to-back 1-0 road losses to Penn State and NC State that came in strikingly similar fashion. In each contest, Maryland surrendered an early goal and allowed its opponent to defend the rest of the way and stifle the Terp attack.

Having had a bit of its swagger taken away, the Terps returned to Ludwig Field to take on William & Mary. The Tribe had taken a page out the Nittany Lion and Wolfpack playbook and tried to defend, and forced the game to be played at a slow, grinding pace. Needing a big play to swing things in their favor – not only in the game but for the season – the Terps got one from their star: Jason Garey.

Garey broke the scoreless tie in the game's 83rd minute after taking a pass and working deep into the right corner of the box. He then cut back into the box shaking two defenders and fired the shot past the goalkeeper. The score was the 46th of his career, making him the school's most prolific goal scorer in history.

That game was the spring-board for what would be an eight-game winning streak that saw the Terps out-score their opponents by a dominating 28-3 margin. An important win in that streak was a 3-1 win over eighth-ranked Duke in Durham, N.C., in front of a national audience on the Fox Soccer Channel. In that game, freshman goalkeeper Chris Seitz proved his mettle stopping a career-high six shots, including an athletic diving save in the first minute of the game and a stop on a Blue Devil penalty kick in the second half. Garey, Stephen King and Aki Kadotani scored goals as the Terps snapped a three-game road losing streak.

Also included in that stretch were convincing wins over conference powers North Carolina and Virginia. The Terps knocked o the 10th-ranked Tar Heels, 4-1, and handlec UVa's formidable forward tandem in a 3-0 wir over the 'Hoos, who entered the game as the second-ranked team in the nation.

After a pair of 4-0 victories over Boston College and NJIT, the stage was set fo a clash of two of the top programs in the country in Indiana and Maryland. A buzz surrounded the game in the days leading up tc the contest – it was Senior Night, it was a rematch of the 2004 NCAA Semifinal that saw the Hoosiers stun the Terps in double overtime, Gary Williams was doing a ceremonia first kick, and the game was on television. The two powerhouses did not disappoint ir front of a Ludwig Field record crowd of 6,203 fans in delivering the game of the year in the NCAA.

Despite separating his shoulder in a game three days earlier and having his status in question for the game against the Hoosiers, Garey pulled off a spectacular goal or a bicycle kick that will go down in Terrapir lore. He added another and King chipped in a score to give the Terps a 3-0 lead at halftime. The Hoosiers rallied late, though, and scorec three of their own in the second – including one with just five seconds left in regulatior that was nearly cleared over the crossbar – and the game ended in a 3-3 draw.

"It's disappointing not to get a result, but there's a reason they have seven stars on their chest – they are championship team,"

Cirovski said after the game. "This game will serve its purpose for us, we saw some things that we wouldn't have seen had we walked away with a 3-0 victory."

Although it wasn't technically a loss, the Terps' momentum in the season had stalled at halftime of the game against the Hoosiers, and Maryland needed a gusty effort to overcome Virginia Tech on the road in overtime to win the ACC regular season title for the second time in three years. Marc Burch supplied the heroics with a header to the far post for the game-winner. The Terps summoned a similar effort in a 2-1 victory over Wake Forest in the ACC Quarterfinals.

However, the Terps were punished for a less-than-sharp performance against Duke in the semifinals. The Blue Devils scored two goals in the game's first 16 minutes, added another score early in the second half and withstood a late Terp rally on its way to the ACC title game and eventually the championship.

Despite the setback, the Terps were rewarded for their season with the top seed in the NCAA Tournament, meaning the road to the College Cup would go through Ludwig Field – a place Maryland had not lost in the postseason since 2001.

Maryland's march in the NCAA Tournament started against the Brown Bears, a team with a style similar to the William & Mary team that frustrated Maryland for 83 minutes earlier in the regular season. However, a goal from Burch in the first half would be all the Terps would need as they held Brown to just four shots in the game.

In the third round, the Terps met up with a familiar postseason opponent in St. John's. The two teams had met in the NCAA Tournament in each of the past two seasons, with the Terps and Red Storm trading victories. Maryland took the rubber match, 3-1, buoyed by a pair of goals from King and two assists from Burch.

Standing in the way of Maryland and a fourth-straight appearance in the College Cup was the Akron Zips, a team that had spent most of the year as the No. 1 team in the nation's polls. The Zips, the tournament's No. 8 seed, came to College Park with a chip on their shoulder and a "dream season" in the balance.

Maryland struck first on a goal by Kenney Bertz after a scramble in the box in the 24th minute. Akron applied pressure late in the second half and it finally paid off just before halftime with the equalizer. The two teams traded quality chances throughout regulation and two tense overtime periods before the game moved to penalty kicks.

The Terps were in their first PK situation, while the Zips were going through the third time this season, including the previous round against UConn. That experience helped the Terps scout the Zip shooters, and superior play by Seitz between the pipes would be the difference. Seitz forced two misses (including one save), and Burch converted the clinching PK as the Terps moved on, 4-1 in PK's, to Cary, N.C., for the College Cup.

In his fifth College Cup as Terrapin head coach, Sasho Cirovski decided this one would be business-as-usual. In years past, he had done something special (videos, t-shirts) in recognition of the NCAA Semifinals. That approach, combined with Maryland's comfort level with the SAS Soccer Complex and the grand stage of the national semifinals, made the Terps a calm, focused group. The team would have to be poised as it would be without its senior stalwart defender, Bertz, who had broken a bone in his face in the quarterfinals against Akron.

Their composure was evident in the first game of the College Cup against SMU. Maryland controlled the play early in the first half but did not manage the score. At that point, the team could've feared the negative outcomes that had plagued them in previous semifinals, but the team persevered and got the goal it rightly deserved on a brilliant volley from Graham Zusi just before halftime.

With that momentum, the Terps continued to pour it on in the second half. Garey scored an NCAA Tournament record two goals in 15 seconds and King converted a penalty kick as the Terps rolled to the 4-1 victory and an appearance in the national finals against the tournament's No. 2 seed, New Mexico.

Prior to the game with the Lobos, pundits pointed to the matchup between Garey and New Mexico's imposing centerbacks, to which Garey replied, "Maybe they don't have to worry about just me. Maybe they have to worry about some of our other guys."

Garey's words would prove to be prophetic, as the lone goal in the final would be a product of two other players who weren't wearing a No. 9 jersey. In the first half, Chris Lancos was pushing forward on a dangerous run before being tripped up by a Lobo defender. Burch took the ensuing free kick, and his shot redirected off the New Mexico wall and crawled into the net past the outstretched arms of the Lobo goalie.

New Mexico started to shift the momentum with dangerous chances in the second half, but the game quickly changed in a critical instant for the Terps in the 50th minute. The Lobos were awarded with a penalty kick after a handball was whistled on the Terps in the box, but Seitz got a beat on the shot and made the save, and then forced the rebound to miss high. It would end up being New Mexico's last quality shot at the equalizer, and the Terps would claim the national championship.

As the team pursued its national title, it was constantly reminded of its past shortcomings. However, the team refused to let past failures define them, and when the last game of the season was played, the scoreboard defined the Maryland Terrapins as champions.

COLLEGE PARK — Loyola learned last night just why Maryland is the No 1-ranked man's college soccer team in the nation.

Bolstered by a few days of rest after upending UCLA and going on to win their own tournament Sunday, the Terrapins played virtually the entire game in their offensive end of the field and routed the young Greyhounds, 4-0, before 1,397 fans at Ludwig Field.

Maryland (5-0) had its opponent on its heels the entire game, registered a 30-1 edge in shots and gave its goalkeeper, Noah Palmer, an easy night.

"That was about a complete a game as a Maryland team has played," said coach Sasho Cirovski. "I think this is the start of COLLEGE PARK — For the first time in the program's history, the Maryland men's soccer team is ranked No. 1 in the NSCAA/adidas Coaches Poll.

The Terrapins beat then No. 1 UCLA, 1-0, in front of a record crowd of 8,143 Friday night at Ludwig Field.

The Terrapins (4-0) were ranked No. 1 in other publications at various other times, including Soccer America last season and College Soccer News this season, but this is the first time Maryland has cracked the top spot in what is the most highly recognized soccer poll.

The Terps are the consensus No. 1 team in all four major polls: NSCAA, Soccer America, College Soccer News and Soccer Times.

Additionally, two Terps were honored yesterday for their play. Forward Abe Thompson, whose penalty kick beat UCLA, was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Week. Midfielder Scott Buete was named the national Player of the Week by College Soccer News for his role in the shutout.

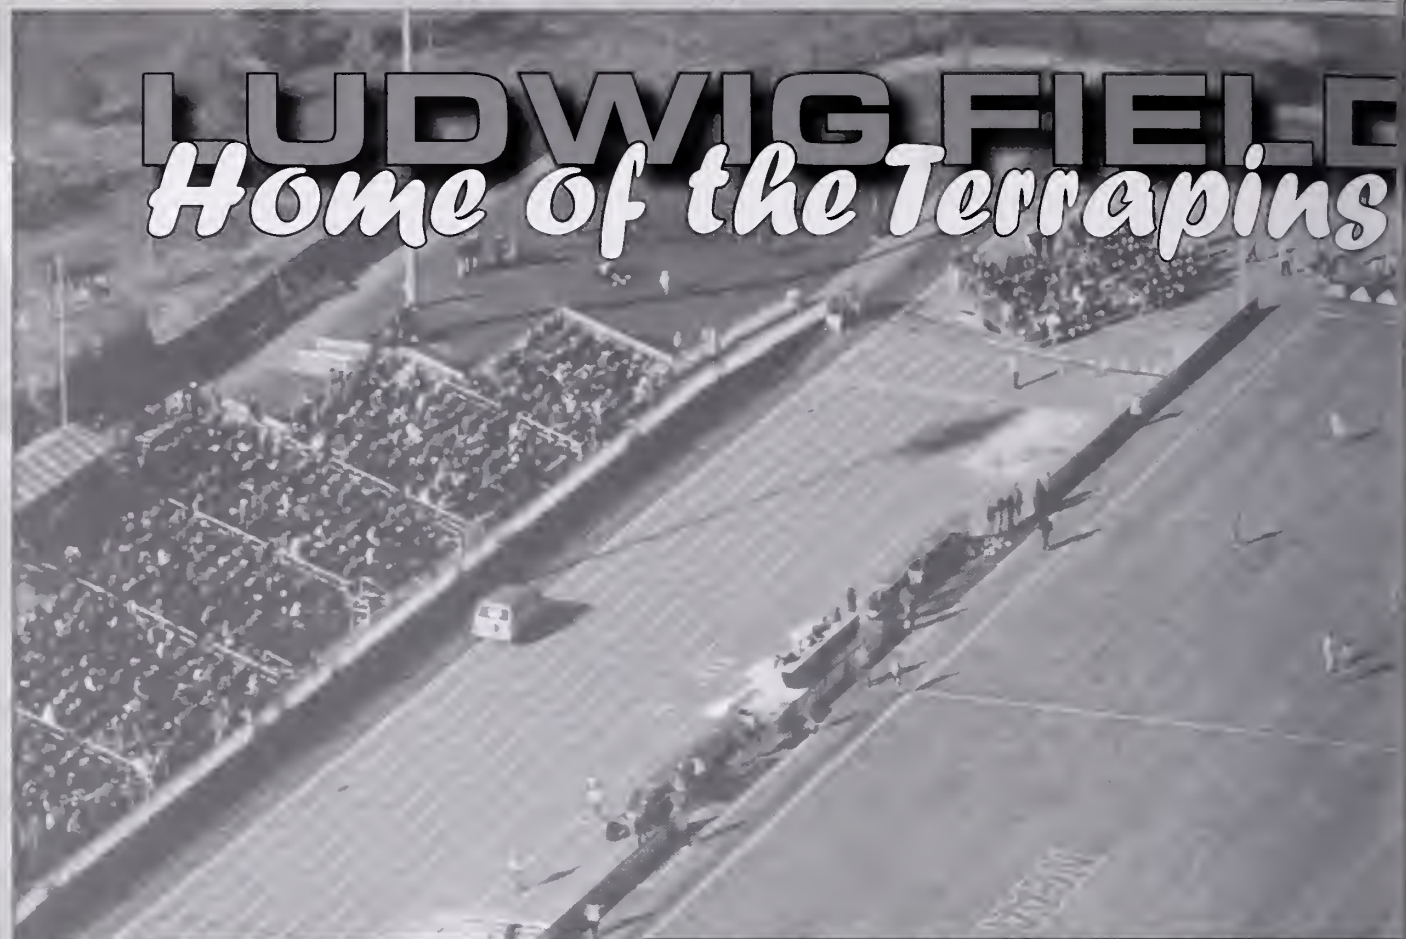
LUDWIG FIELD
Home of the Terrapins



2005 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Since its opening in 1995, state-of-the-art Ludwig Field has been the home of the Terrapin men's and women's soccer teams as well as playing host to numerous other local soccer events throughout the past 11 years.

Due to the expanding horizon of Terrapin soccer and the growing interest in its achievement on the field, the University of Maryland embarked on a project that would bring the level of the facility on par with the excellence of the programs that played there.

The $2.5 million facility was dedicated on Sept. 16, 1995, and is surely a cornerstone of collegiate soccer throughout the nation.

The 4,000-seat facility is an integral part of the more than $40 million of new construction for Maryland athletics. The complex is fully lighted with an all-weather track and sodded Bermuda grass playing field. In 2004, a new state-of-the-art scoreboard with in-game statistics and lively graphics was installed.

The permanent lights allow for commonly scheduled night games. The lights also allow Maryland the ability to host NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference tournaments and nationally televised games. Since its opening, Ludwig Field has played host to 21 NCAA Tournament games, including 10 Maryland wins in the tournament in the last four years. Those wins allowed the Terps to make four consecutive College Cup appearances.

Fans came out to watch Maryland in record numbers over the past few seasons. Last season, the Terps set a school record in attendance with over 33,000 people. The total ranked second in the NCAA, and the Terps average attendance of 2,548 ranked third in the country. Highlighting the home season in 2005 was a record crowd of 6,203 to see Maryland play Indiana – the game was the highest attended regular season game in all of Division I. In 2004, the Terps had three crowds of over 3,200 in games against St. John's (one regular season, one postseason) and Duke. In 2003, nearly 30,000 people came to watch the Terps play, the second-highest total in the nation. Highlighted in that year was Maryland's battle with UCLA, which was played in front of the seventh-largest crowd in NCAA history (6,143) to watch a regular season men's soccer game. The Terps defeated the Bruins, 1-0.

In addition to the collegiate games played at Ludwig Field, the complex has played host to numerous U.S. and professional soccer matches, as well. Among the teams who have used Ludwig Field as their home-away-from-home are the 2000 U.S. Women's National Team and the WUSA's own Washington Freedom.

In addition to the high-level of competition created by the excellent playing surface at Ludwig Field, the complex was also created with the local soccer fan very much in mind. The field is located directly adjacent to Parking Lot 1 and close to the University Boulevard entrance.

Numerous Terrapin All-Americans have called the field home, with Maryland fighting its way to an 100-28-7 record on its home field.

The facility is named after lifetime Terrapin friends Bob and Louise Ludwig.

SASHO CIROVSKI

14TH SEASON AT MARYLAND · 16TH SEASON OVERALL
WISCONSIN-MILWAUKEE, '85

Upon his arrival in College Park in 1993, Sasho Cirovski has transformed Maryland into a national soccer power, leading the Terps to the 2005 NCAA title, five College Cup appearances, two ACC titles, all the while producing numerous top-level professional players. Entering his 14th season at Maryland, the 2005 NSCAA National Coach of the Year has instilled his passion for excellence in a soccer program that expects to compete for the national title every season.

During his tenure with the Terps, Maryland has been to the NCAA Tournament 11 times, advancing to the Final Four in five of those years, including the four straight appearances from 2002-05, culminating in the NCAA title last season. The Terps have also captured two ACC Tournament titles (1996 and 2002) and two ACC regular season title (2003, 2005) during his stay in College Park. His overall record, which includes two seasons at Hartford, stands at 213-100-20, and his record at Maryland is an impressive 187-88-14.

Last season's championship run did not mark the arrival of the Maryland program, but helped reinforce its place alongside the nation's elite. In addition to a fourth-straight College Cup appearance, the Terps won the ACC regular season title and posted a 19-4-2 mark. In addition, he helped mentor Maryland's first Hermann Trophy winner in Jason Garey, who left Maryland as the school's all-time leader in goals (60) and points (140) and was the third pick in the MLS SuperDraft. Cirovski was named the ACC Coach of the Year for the second time of his career, and was the NSCAA National Coach of the Year for the first time as the Terps brought home their first national title in soccer since 1968.

Under Cirovski's guidance, the Terps have brought fans out to Ludwig Field in record numbers. For the third straight season, Maryland ranked second in the country in total attendance, and the 6,203 fans that watched the Terps take on Indiana set a Ludwig Field record. Cirovski's efforts to build a winning team that plays an exciting brand of soccer are only matched by his efforts to build Ludwig Field into one of the top soccer venues in the country. For the second-straight year, the Terps broke the school record for goals with in a season with 66.

In addition to his leadership on the sidelines, Cirovski is also in his third season as a leader in college soccer as the chairman of the men's soccer NSCAA Division I committee. As chairman, Cirovski was the architect in creating the position of NSCAA Program Director, a major triumph for the sport. This position is the singular voice of college soccer in dealing with NCAA legislative issues, overseeing College Cups and elevating the significance and status of the sport. He was also vital in brokering the television partnership between Fox Soccer Channel and the NSCAA, guaranteeing a weekly spot for college soccer on television.

"Sasho has not only a vision and a passion to improve and promote college soccer but he has the knowledge and the dedication to pursue new ideas,"

North Carolina head coach Elmar Bolowich said. "His enthusiasm for our sport is infectious and it will unite Division I college coaches to pursue our objectives and achieve them."

Cirovski has brought success to every program he has been apart of. After helping his alma mater, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in a decade as an assistant coach under Bob Gansler, he assumed the top spot at Hartford in 1991. In his two seasons with the Hawks, he took the team to back-to-back 13-6-3 records and consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances for the first time in school history. He then came to Maryland in 1993 to help resurrect a once-proud program that had been to only one NCAA Tournament in the last 16 years.

Cirovski has since built Maryland into one of the top programs in the nation and has given the Terps some of the finest seasons in school history. Here is a look at the year-by-year highlights of the Cirovski Era:

1994: In just his second season with the Terps, Maryland went to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, and finished with a 14-6-1 record. A 4-3 first-round NCAA win over Georgetown was the program's first since 1969, and marked the first time since 1986 that Maryland received an invitation to the Big Dance. The Terps' improvement from a 3-14-1 record during Cirovski's first year to a 14-6-1 record marked the greatest single-season turnaround in the 44-year history of the ACC.

1995: Maryland again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Terrapins finished second in the ACC with a 4-1-1 mark, and ended the year ranked as high as No. 15 by Soccer America.

1996: Maryland made history when it won the 1996 ACC Championship, the first-ever tournament championship in the program's history. The Terps again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament before falling to William & Mary.

1997: After a fourth-place regular-season finish, the Terps again advanced to the ACC championship game before falling to Virginia. Maryland advanced to the NCAA second round for the fourth consecutive season, defeating Rutgers (1-0) in the first round before losing to American, 1-0. The Terps finished 1997 with a record of 16-6-1, a school record for wins in a season, and finished ranked No. 10 in the nation.

1998: Another milestone was reached on Jan. 31, 1998, when Leo Cullen was selected as the No. 1 draft pick by the Miami Fusion in the Major League Soccer collegiate draft. A Hermann and Missouri Athletic Club award finalist in 1996 and 1997, Cullen was also selected as the 1997 ACC Player of the Year, an NSCAA first-team All-American and Collegiate MVP by Soccer America.

1998: Cirovski attracted the nation's top recruiting class to College Park before the 1998 season, and led by National Freshman of the Year Taylor Twellman, and Maryland's all-time career assist leader, Keith Beach, the Terrapins finished the regular season 12-6. The Terps made their fifth straight NCAA tournament run, advancing all the way to their first national semifinal appearance since 1969.

1999: The 1999 season saw Cirovski's team spend two weeks in the No. 1 slot in the Soccer America poll for the first time in school history. The Terps also ended the regular season with 14 wins, tying a program record for most wins in a regular season. Receiving its sixth straight NCAA bid, No. 6-seed Maryland was defeated by St. John's on its home field with a 1-0 loss in the 89th minute to bring its season to an end.

1999: Terrapin sophomores Dan Califf and Taylor Twellman both opted to explore their options in the professional ranks with Califf being selected in the first round by the Los Angeles Galaxy of MLS and Twellman signing with the 1860 Munich of the German Bundesliga, adding to Cirovski's list of former Terps currently enjoying successful professional careers. Twellman has since moved to MLS, where he was the league MVP and top scorer in 2005.

2001: After a 10-9 record in 2000, the Terps returned to the NCAA Tournament again in 2001 for Cirovski's seventh NCAA appearance at Maryland. The Terrapins advanced to the second round after defeating Notre Dame before losing in overtime to Loyola 1-0 in the second round. The team was back in the Top 25 at the end of the year, finishing 25th in the NSCAA's final poll.

2002: Maryland fell just short of the NCAA title losing in the Final Four and finished third in the NSCAA/adidas final poll. The Terps had made their second College Cup appearance in four years and captured the school's second ACC Tournament title in addition to leading Terps to a program-best 20 wins.

2003: Cirovski was named the ACC Coach of the Year in helping guide Maryland to a 20-3-1 record, its first No. 1 ranking in the NSCAA poll, a second consecutive Final Four appearance and the ACC regular season crown. The 20 wins matched the school record set in 2002, and four Terp players were selected in the first two rounds of the MLS draft, more than any other team in the nation.

2004: The Terps continued to make their mark on the national scene, advancing to the College Cup for the third straight season and posting a 17-6-2 record. He helped mentor two Hermann Trophy semifinalists in forwards Abe Thompson and Jason Garey as Maryland set the school record for goals in a season with 62.

Achieving a level of excellence again at Maryland, Cirovski has added the respect of more people than ever for the Terrapins. He has combined an unparalleled ability to motivate and teach with exceptional mastery of technique to become one of the most talented and versatile soccer coaches in the nation. And whether it's on the field or in the classroom, Cirovski's student-athletes give it all they've got, and it shows.

In addition to the accomplishments of his 14-year coaching career with the Terps, Cirovski was also a standout student-athlete himself. He began his career at Wisconsin-Milwaukee where he was a four-year letterwinner. As a senior, he won the Herman Kluge Award for Male Athlete of the Year, and, in 1998, he was inducted into the UWM Athletic Hall of Fame. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1985 and his master's in 1989. He then spent parts of three seasons as a professional player and coach with the teams in the Canadian Soccer League, and the National Professional Soccer League. His first taste of coaching came in 1987 in the Canadian Soccer League.

Cirovski is entering his 16th year of coaching overall, and holds an "A" coaching license from the U.S. Soccer Federation, as well as an Advanced National Diploma from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. During the summer of 1997, he served as the assistant coach of the JVC U-17 World Youth Championship team, which played against Argentina, Uraguay, Egypt and two domestic camps. The team competed at the U-17 World Cup Championship in Egypt held in September of 1997. Cirovski also worked as an assistant coach for the U.S. U-20 National Team.

Cirovski's wife, the former Shannon Higgins, played collegiate soccer at North Carolina and entered the soccer Hall of Fame in the fall of 2002. The couple has three daughters, 12-year-old Hailey, Karli, who turned 10 in August, and Ellie, who turned four on July 15.

ASSISTANT COACH
ST. BONAVENTURE, '00
4TH SEASON

In his three seasons with the Terps, Rob Vartughian has known nothing but success at the University of Maryland with three-straight College Cup appearances and the 2005 NCAA title. Beginning his fourth season as an assistant coach, Vartughian works primarily with the goalkeepers, but is also heavily involved in all aspects of the program.

Last season, Vartughian helped the progression of freshman goalkeeper Chris Seitz, as Seitz became the first freshman to lead his team to an NCAA title since Brad Friedel did it in 1990. Seitz was the Defensive MVP at the College Cup, as well as being named to the All-ACC second team and numerous Freshman All-America teams.

In each of his three seasons with the Terps, Vartughian has helped Terp goalkeepers earn All-ACC honors in each of those seasons. Before Seitz, Vartughian guided Noah Palmer to one of the finest careers for a goalkeeper in Maryland history. Palmer recorded the lowest goals-against average for a Terp goalkeeper in school history (0.56) and left Maryland with a school-record 34 career shutouts.

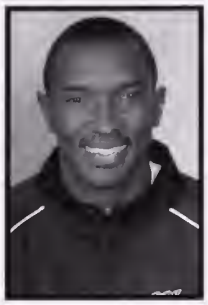
Vartughian is the current head coach for the Maryland Boys (1990s) ODP team that won the national championship in 2006. That team also won the the regional title in the summer of 2006.

A collegiate keeper for St. Bonaventure from 1996-99 and then for Wake Forest in 2000, Vartughian comes to College Park after spending two years as an assistant coach for Penn. While at Penn, he acted as both the men's and women's goalkeeping instructor, where his keepers earned All-American and Ivy League Player of the Year accolades, while both men's and women's teams went on to Ivy League titles in 2001 and 2002.

Vartughian was a Bonnie from 1996-99 and graduated in 2000 with a bachelor of science in accounting and finance before heading to Wake Forest to begin graduate work in education. During his time at St. Bonaventure, he set the Bonnie record for shutouts in a single season and career goals-against average. He finished his career as the starting goalkeeper at Wake Forest where he made 72 saves on the year.

Vartughian's playing career extended past college taking him to the Philadelphia Kixx of the Major Indoor Soccer League and both the Hampton Roads Mariners and Charleston Battery of the A-League teams. He spent 2001 with the South Jersey Barons Division III United Soccer League team. His other coaching experience includes being the director of goalkeeper training at the Elite 300 Soccer Academy.

Vartughian holds a B-license from the US Soccer Federation.



RUSSELL PAYNE
ASSISTANT COACH
MARYLAND, '98
2ND SEASON

Former Terrapin standout Russell Payne returns to College Park for his second season as an assistant coach. Payne, who was a Sasho Cirovski's first blue-chip recruit and was a four-year starter in goal for the Terrapins, is back coaching at his alma mater after spending several seasons playing and coaching in Europe.

In his first season on the sideline with the Terps, Payne helped lead Maryland to a 19-4-2 record, the ACC regular season title and its first NCAA title since 1968. He coached four All-ACC selections as well as four MLS SuperDraft picks.

In the summer of 2006, Payne served as an assistant coach for the U.S. U-20 team that played in the Milk Cup in Ireland.

Payne, a B-license US Soccer Federation coach, comes to Maryland after playing professionally with the Shamrock Rovers (Ireland) and SV Elversberg Football Club (Germany). Prior to that, the Columbia, Md., native spent three seasons as the goalkeeper coach for the SV Elversberg U-16 team. From 2000-01, he played for Derry City (Northern Ireland) and also served as its U-18 goalkeeper coach.

Payne, who also spent time with Major League Soccer's Colorado Rapids and Metrostars, coached collegiately at George Washington in 1997-98 as the goalkeeper coach under Shannon Higgins-Cirovski and as a volunteer assistant with the Terp men in 1997.

A four-year starter for the Terps (1993-96), Payne was an All-ACC selection as a sophomore and led the Atlantic Coast Conference in goals-against average as a senior with a 0.88 mark. He recorded 22.5 shutouts during his four seasons and recorded 340 saves in his career in helping Maryland to three straight NCAA Tournament appearances. He also helped Maryland to its first-ever ACC Tournament championship in 1996.

Payne and his wife, Vanessa, reside in Washington, D.C.

2006 SEASON OUTLOOK

Do not call the 2006 Maryland men's soccer team defending national champions. That statement hints that the team is somehow protecting last year's championship. More accurately, the Terrapins are the returning national champions, and are pursuing a new title in a new year with the same hunger and determination of past seasons.

"We are certainly very proud of 2005, but that's filed," head coach Sasho Cirovski says flatly.

Talented players at Maryland are a given, but one of the main question marks for the Terps heading into this season will be leadership both on and off the field. While Maryland did haul in the nation's fourth-best recruiting class, the Terps lose six seniors from last season, four of which started over 80 games in their careers in College Park. The loss of that group's experience and production will obviously be missed, and it leaves a void where a new set of leaders will need to emerge.

"One of the keys this year is going to be how quickly we can have players step up as leaders and take it upon themselves during the difficult moments that inevitably happen during a season, but that's what we've worked on in the spring," Cirovski says. For that leadership, Cirovski will lean on his two seniors, A.J. Godbolt and Pat Wilson, as well as his two team captains, juniors Stephen King and Maurice Edu.

Stephen King

The Terps return six starters from last year's team, including its entire midfield. Maryland will have to re-build its back line with mostly freshmen and sophomores, but will benefit from having one of the premiere keepers in the college game in sophomore Chris Seitz. With the departure of the school's all-time goal scorer in Jason Garey, the Terrapins will also need to find several players to pick up the offensive slack.

"This is going to be our most challenging year of the last five or so because we are integrating more new players in new places than we have had to in the past," Cirovski says. "I believe we've put together a schedule that will test us, but not break us. Hopefully we can continue to get better as the season goes on. I'm certain we will go through difficult situations and we will improve. At the end of the day, we'll end up being a contender."

With four straight College Cup appearances, more wins than any other program over the last four seasons and a national title to his credit, there is little reason to doubt Cirovski's assertion that his team will again be dangerous in November.

FORWARD

With the loss of all-everything striker Jason Garey, the Maryland offense lost exactly one-third of its goal production from last season. The Terps will not simply try to find one player to take on Garey's role, but will rather try to find several players who can help produce scores. The playmaking talent in the midfield will have a large impact on the Terps' offensive game plan and ease the burden on what will likely be a young crop of strikers.

"When you lose a player like Jason Garey, the question naturally becomes, 'Where are our goals are going to come from?'" Cirovski says. "There is an opportunity for several players to have an impact. We have some talented players that will be excited and energetic for that challenge."

Sophomore Graham Zusi is in a similar mold as Garey with deceptive speed and a nose for the goal, and should have a chance to build on his five-goal, two-assist freshman campaign. With increased confidence, junior Aki Kadotani has skill and poise in the box that could have him in the mix for a spot up top. Freshmen Jeremy Hall, Jason Herrick and Drew Yates are creative, skillful players that can also find the back of the net. Newcomer Rich Costanzo, the Big Ten Player of the Year at Penn State in 2004, is a dangerous player whose best spot on the field has yet to be determined, and could also see time as a forward.

MIDFIELD

The Terrapins will boast arguably the top midfield in the country with Maurice Edu, A.J. Godbolt, Stephen King. Cirovski will rely heavily on this unit to support the youth up top and in the back.

"I think this could be the best midfield in the country," Cirovski says. "They will really have to step up their level of leadership in linking the backs and the forwards together. Our central midfielders Maurice and Stephen will be crucial in terms of seeing things behind them and in front of them and linking together."

Edu, a second team All-ACC selection last season, took on the role of holding midfielder towards the end of last year and was key in Maryland's postseason run. Edu is the quintessential midfielder with the ability to halt an opponent's attack and then get his team moving forward. Edu, who has battled injuries during his first two seasons, will be 100 percent heading into 2006.

Maurice Edu

King was quietly one of the most potent offensive weapons in the ACC last season with 15 goals and eight assists. A starter in every game Maryland has played over the last two seasons, King's production and leadership in the attacking midfielder role will be one of Maryland's keys to success.

Godbolt served up 13 assists from his position on the right flank, earning his reputation as one of the top crossers in the college game. His touch on the ball and his ability to create space for others makes him a vital part of the Terp attack.

Adding depth in the midfield will be Drew Yates and Jeremy Hall, who can play either of the wide midfield spots, as well as sophomore Michael Marchiano whose best position is defensive midfielder. Aki Kadotani could also see time in the midfield to help spark the Terp offense as well as newcomer Tyler Mishalow.

DEFENSE

With the departure defensive stalwarts Kenney Bertz, Chris Lancos, Michael Dello-Russo and David Glaudemans, who combined for over 270 career starts over the last four years, Cirovski has used the offseason to help prepare his revamped back line for the fall.

"We put our players in as competitive environment as we could in the spring," Cirovski says. "We got a great test from the MLS teams we played as well as Wisconsin, and our own midfielders and forwards will challenge them in preseason training as well."

The lone returning member of the defense is sophomore A.J. Delagarza, who made 13 starts for the Terps last season, including two critical performances in the College Cup. Delagarza will be a left centerback for the Terps and provides the toughness and tenacity necessary for the position.

Freshman Omar Gonzalez is an imposing 6-5 defender who Cirovski believes is a more versatile form of Bertz. Gonzalez, along with fellow newcomer Jeremy Hall, played for the U.S. U-17 team in the World Championships in 2005 and has played several different positions throughout his career. His ability to read the game could put him in position to be one of the defensive leaders from the centerback position.

Spencer Allen played well at the leftback position in the spring, and will begin preseason camp at that position. Allen has plenty of game experience, although he has seen most of his action in the midfield up to this point.

Spencer Allen

The rightback position is up for grabs among several players heading into the fall. Among the candidates for the spot are returnees Pat Wilson, Matt Beckman and Kwame Darko, and newcomers Rich Costanzo, Justin Kendro and Jon Ports.

"We like to have one of the outside backs to be dangerous, a role that Chris Lancos filled so well for us over the last few years," Cirovski says. "We have some transformed strikers in the back that have a good attacking mentality. A large part of our attack is getting players forward out of the back."

GOALIE

Chris Seitz, the Defensive MVP from the College Cup a year ago, returns as Maryland's starting goalkeeper for 2006. Seitz battled an injured shoulder toward the end of last season and had offseason surgery, and should be 100 percent by the start of preseason training. Seitz will be key in leading Maryland's young defense.

Chris Seitz

"Chris has a great presence in goal and has great communication skills," Cirovski says. "He reads and understands the game beyond his years and therefore has the ear and the respect of all the players. I feel like he's going to do a great job of connecting the back four very quickly.

"He has the ability to keep us in games when we're struggling and help us win games that are tight," Cirovski adds.

Sophomore Aaron Chinn joined the squad in January, and saw all of the action in goal for the Terps in the spring while Seitz recovered from surgery. Chinn and freshman Josh Mikulewicz will help push Seitz in training.

SCHEDULE

The Terps will go against 10 teams that competed in the 2005 NCAA Tournament, including fellow College Cup participant Clemson. Maryland will play 13 games at Ludwig Field, and the 2006 ACC Tournament will be played in Germantown, Md.

"This is another challenging, exciting schedule that has a little bit of everything," Cirovski says. "The ACC schedule alone is extremely demanding because it is, in my opinion, the strongest and most balanced conference in the country. And we will also be put to the test against a very competitive non-conference slate."

The 2006 regular season begins on the road on Aug. 25 against 2005 NCAA Tournament qualifier Old Dominion. Maryland will then begin a three-game homestand on Sunday, Aug. 27, against Binghamton. For the third time in four years, the Terrapins will face UCLA in the regular season on Friday, Sept. 1. The homestand will conclude on Monday, Sept. 4, against Louisville.

Maryland will begin ACC play on the road against Clemson on Friday, Sept. 8, before another three-game homestand against Mt. St. Mary's (Sept. 13), NC State (Sept. 16) and Penn State (Sept. 20).

The Terps will then enter a stretch where they will play three of their next five games on the road, including key ACC matchups against Wake Forest (Sept. 26), North Carolina (Oct. 6) and Virginia (Oct. 11). In between those games, Maryland will play host to non-conference foe Loyola (Sept. 26) and 2005 ACC Tournament champion Duke (Sept. 29).

The Terrapins will play its final five regular season games in the friendly confines of Ludwig Field. Boston College (Oct. 14), Hartwick (Oct. 19), Albany (Oct. 22), Bucknell (Oct. 24) and Virginia Tech (Oct. 27) wrap up the regular season for Maryland.

The ACC Tournament will be played Nov. 1-5 in Germantown at the SoccerPlex. The NCAA Tournament will begin Nov. 10-11, and will conclude Dec. 1-3 with the College Cup in St. Louis.

MARYLAND SOCCER :: A SPECTATOR SPORT

Maryland men's soccer team has increasingly attracted more and more fans to Ludwig Field in each of the past seven seasons. Last year, the team set a school record with over 33,000 fans, a total that was second-best in the country. The Terps success and winning ways are a major factor in packing the stands, but there is more to the team's increasing popularity than just wins and losses. The electric atmosphere features one of the most vocal and supportive student groups in the country lurking behind the opponents' goal: The Crew. In addition, the intimacy of Ludwig Field puts fans right in the middle of the action. And the Terps play an attacking, offensive brand of soccer that delivers the excitement that only a goal can provide. All of this has helped make a Maryland men's soccer game a popular, exciting and unique fan experience.

2005 SEASON REVIEW

• The top-seeded Maryland Terrapins claimed their first national championship in 37 years with a 1-0 win over second-seeded New Mexico in Cary, N.C. The Terps became the first No. 1 seed to win the tournament since 1992. Marc Burch scored his second game-winning goal of the NCAA Tournament on a free kick from 25 yards in the 31st minute. Chris Seitz stopped a pivotal penalty kick in the 50th minute to help secure the victory.

• Five Terrapins were named to the All-Tournament Team: Jason Garey, Michael Dello-Russo, Chris Seitz, Robbie Rogers and A.J. Godbolt. Garey was the tournament's offensive MVP while Seitz was the defensive MVP.

• Seitz became the first freshman goalie to lead his team to the NCAA title since 1990.

• Maryland finished the season with a 19-4-2 record.

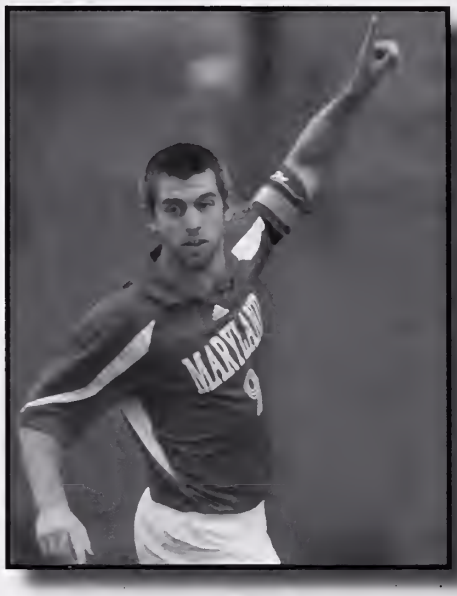
• The Terps won the ACC regular season title for the second time in three years. Maryland posted a 7-1-0 mark in conference play.

• Maryland faced 15 ranked opponents in 2005 (including the postseason). The Terps went 11-2-2 against ranked foes.

• For the second consecutive season, the Terps broke the record for goals in a season with 66 -- breaking the mark of 62 set last season. The team was shut out just three times on the year and were not blanked in the last 17 games.

• Maryland was just the eighth team in NCAA history to reach the semifinals in four consecutive years.

• The Terrapins had another banner year at the gate, scoring over 33,000 fans in 2005 -- the most in school history. On the year, Maryland averaged over 2,500 fans. The attendance of 6,203 against Indiana was a Ludwig Field record. Maryland's total attendance was second in the country, and the average attendance was third in the country.



Jason Garey

• Maryland posted an 11-0-2 record and remained unbeaten in its last 19 games at Ludwig Field (dating back to 2004).

• From 2002-05, the program compiled a record of 76-18-5, a winning percentage of .792. In that time, Maryland has won a national championship, two ACC regular season titles, one ACC Tournament title, and has made four appearances in the College Cup. The success is unprecedented in the program's history.

• Sasho Cirovski won his 200th career game and was also named the NSCAA National Coach of the Year as well as ACC Coach of the Year.

• Jason Garey, the 2005 ACC Offensive Player of the Year, etched his name all over the Maryland record books. After one of the strongest offensive seasons in Maryland history in 2004, he scored 22 goals and seven assists for 51 points, the third highest total in a single season in school history.

• Garey became the first Maryland Terrapin to win the M.A.C. Hermann Trophy as the country's best college soccer player. He was also named CoSIDA's Academic All-American of the Year and earned the NSCAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year award.

• Maryland assisted on all but 13 goals this season (five of which were PKs), led by A.J. Godbolt's career-high 13 assists in 2005. That total ranked tied for second at Maryland for assists in a season. Maryland had 67 assists on 66 goals on the year, and 15 different players had an assist this season, including goalkeeper Chris Seitz.

• The Terps were 18-0-2 in 2005 when scoring the game's first goal. Maryland outscored opponents 32-11 in the first half this season.

• Four Terps were taken in the 2006 MLS SuperDraft: Jason Garey (3rd to Columbus), Marc Burch (24th to Los Angeles), Michael Dello-Russo (42nd to FC Dallas) and Kenney Bertz (47th to DC United).

• The Maryland men's soccer program helped raise over $2,000 for the Hurricane Katrina relief effort. Each player contributed $20, and Sasho Cirovski chipped in $500, meaning the men's team itself donated over $1,000. On Sept. 9 vs. Santa Clara, the women's team collected donations during the game to bring the total over $2,000.

GAME 1
Sept. 2, 2005
at Cal State Fullerton
7-0

FULLERTON, Calif. — Sophomore Stephen King scored a first half hat trick and added another goal in the second to lead the second-ranked Maryland Terrapins to a 7-0 win over Cal State Fullerton at Titan Stadium. The Terps also received a pair of goals from freshman Graham Zusi and Jason Garey tacked on another as Maryland won its fifth-straight season opener.

A.J. Godbolt and Marc Burch each tallied two assists for Maryland, and Chris Lancos, Matt Beckman, Robbie C'deBaca, David Glaudemans and Garey added one assist for the Terps.

King got the Terps started in the 19th minute. Godbolt took the ball to near the end line before sending a cross to King who buried the shot from 10 yards. King again broke through for the second score on a rebound on a pass from Godblot. He capped off his first career hat trick in just under nine minutes after taking a pass from Garey at midfield and moved the ball upfield and to his right before firing a shot from 19 yards past the keeper.

A trio of freshmen helped combine for Maryland's fourth goal of the half as Michael Marchiano won a ball at midfield and played it ahead to Matt Beckman. Beckman crossed to Zusi who was able to beat his defender to the ball and redirect it for the score in the 40th minute to send the Terrapins into the half with a 4-0 lead.

After an initial burst from Cal State Fullerton in the second half, the Terps continued to pour it on scoring three goals. King and Garey each scored, and Zusi added the other.

Craig Salvati got the starting nod in goal for Maryland and made one save in 61 minutes of work before giving way to Chris Seitz, who stopped two shots.

GAME 2
Sept. 4, 2005
at UCLA
0-4

LOS ANGELES -- The ninth-ranked UCLA scored three first half goals and limited No. 2 Maryland to just seven shots as the Bruins defeated the Terrapins 4-0 at Drake Stadium. UCLA Freshman Sal Zizzo scored a goal and two assists as the Terps fell to 1-1 on the season.

The Bruins controlled the first half, and a quick counter attack paid off on UCLA's first goal. Freshman Sal Zizzo controlled the ball at midfield who sent the ball down the right flank to a streaking Marvell Wynne. Wynne used his speed to get past the Terrapin defense and sent a cross that connected with Kamani Hill for the score in just the game's eighth minute.

The Terps appeared to get the equalizer minutes later from the foot of Jason Garey, but the goal was nullified by an offside call.

The Bruins went up 2-0 in the 38th minute as Zizzo again played a part in the Bruin goal, working down the right side before sending a cross in the air which was headed in by Evan Corey. UCLA grabbed a 3-0 lead heading into halftime after Luke Mehring headed in a corner kick sent by Jordan Harvey in the game's 43rd minute.

Despite giving up the three goals, Maryland starter Craig Salvati recorded five saves in the first half between the pipes.

The Terps were sharper in the second half, but could not get enough possession in the Bruin end to generate any offense. The Bruins finished off the Terps after Mike Zaher sent a high cross that was partially deflected by Maryland keeper Chris Seitz -- who played the entire second half in goal for the Terps -- and fell to the foot of Zizzo who notched the score at 79:45.

UCLA out-shot Maryland 17-7 in the game, and the Terps failed to get a shot on goal.

COLLEGE PARK, Md — Jason Garey scored a pair of goals and defender Kenney Bertz headed in another as the 12th-ranked Maryland Terrapins knocked off No. 5 Santa Clara, 3-1, in front of 2,827 fans at Ludwig Field.

Senior goalkeeper Craig Salvati was credited with a career-high five saves on the night and Marc Burch, Michael Dello-Russo and Stephen King each earned assists.

Maryland (2-1-0) jumped on the Broncos early, with Garey recording a goal in just 93 seconds. Burch was able to win a ball in the midfield and play it ahead to Garey who streaked past the defense before beating keeper Christopher Moreo in the lower-left portion of the net.

Bertz added the second score after Dello-Russo took a free kick from 40 yards out. Dello-Russo's kick curled into the box where Bertz headed it in for a 2-0 Terp lead in the 27th minute. Garey helped give Maryland a 3-0 first half cushion with his second goal of the night and third on the season after finishing a pass from King.

Salvati made three first half saves to keep the Broncos scoreless, including a sliding save on a shot by Erick Ustruck.

Santa Clara (2-1-0) fought back with an early score in the second half when Hector Guzman's cross along the ground got to the foot of Kelechi Igwe for the goal 46:08 in the game. Salvati made another clutch save in the second half as Keith Devey nearly was able to redirect a pass from Mehdi Ballouchy, but Salvati was able to deflect it wide of the goal.

vs. VCU

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The 12th-ranked Maryland Terrapin men's soccer team captured its fourth-straight Maryland/adidas Classic with a 3-0 win over No. 15 Virginia Commonwealth Sunday evening at Ludwig Field. Maryland benefited from a VCU own goal and Robbie Rogers and Jason Garey each tallied a score to lead the Terps and Craig Salvati recorded the shutout as the Terps picked up their second straight win this season over a ranked opponent.

For his efforts on the weekend, Garey was named the tournament's offensive MVP. Garey scored three goals in two games. Salvati earned defensive MVP honors after registering a career-high five saves Friday night against Santa Clara and stopped three shots in the shutout of the Rams.

The first half that was marred by 21 fouls (15 on VCU, 6 on Maryland) and two cards compared to just four total shots from both teams. The Terps took a 1-0 lead, though, in the 27th minute after Bertz took a throw-in 15 yards up the sideline and sent the ball into the box where it was deflected into the goal by a Ram defender.

The Terps controlled the play in the second half and saw better offensive chances as a result. Just seven minutes after halftime, Stephen King put on a great individual effort to give himself some room on the right side of the box to send a high pass over to freshman Robbie Rogers. Rogers then half-volleyed the ball from eight yards out past a sliding Andrew Dykstra for the score. Garey then put the game away in the 76th minute after finishing a cross sent by A.J. Godbolt after he was sprung down the right side by King.

vs. St. Bonaventure

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Senior forward Jason Garey recorded the second hat trick of his career to lead No. 8 Maryland to a 3-0 win over St. Bonaventure at Ludwig Field. The Terps out-shot the Bonnies 25-6 as Maryland shut out its third straight opponent.

Maryland pressured St. Bonaventure with quality chances in the opening part of the game. The Terps broke through with a goal on a corner kick as A.J. Godbolt's corner went to the far post where he found Kenney Bertz. Bertz' headed it back to the near post over Bonnie goalie Jonathan Blanchard where Garey got his head on it for the score at 24:23. The Terps stayed on the attack the rest of the way, but Blanchard made seven first half saves to keep the score at 1-0.

Garey put St. Bonaventure away with two goals in the 54th minute. Freshman Graham Zusi set up the first on a short pass inside the box, and the second came on a run in which Garey held off a defender and chipped the ball over the charging keeper for the goal. Garey's hat trick was just the sixth in Ludwig Field history and moved him into a tie for first all-time at Maryland for career goals with 45.

Freshman goalkeeper Chris Seitz earned the first start of his career and made three saves for the shutout.

The Terrapin defense limited St. Bonaventure to just six shots, including just two in the final 45 minutes.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. - Penn State's Simon Omekanda scored in just the second minute which proved to be the difference as the Nittany Lions defeated No. 6 Maryland, 1-0, at Jeffrey Field.

The Nittany Lions jumped on the scoreboard early after Christopher Ascherl got free on the right side and sent a cross to Omekanda who headed the ball from the six for the score in just the second minute of action.

The Terps controlled the midfield and worked the ball upfield but could not connect in the final third. The Penn State back line limited Maryland to just a pair of shots in the first half.

Maryland attacked early in the second half and generated several set plays deep in the Penn State end. The Terps had three corner kicks and two free kicks just outside the box in the half's first 10 minutes but could not get any good looks at the goal.

The Nittany Lions had a chance to put the game away late in the second, but goalkeeper Craig Salvati came out to stuff two shots by Ascherl. The Terp offense cooled late with only two quality chances - a header to the back post that was snuffed out by goalie Conrad Taylor and a header by Kenney Bertz that was just off the mark to the right.

Salvati made two saves on the night while Taylor did not have to stop a shot for the Lions.

ACC Quarterfinals

CARY, N.C. -- Jason Garey scored the game-winner off feeds from Graham Zusi and Stephen King in the 65th minute of action to defeat Wake Forest, 2-1, in the ACC Quarterfinals.

Neither team was able to generate much offense through most of the first half. The Terps broke through when they were awarded a penalty kick after a foul in the box. King stepped up to convert his second PK of the year to give Maryland the 1-0 lead in the 31st minute.

With play mostly residing in the midfield, Maryland was able to take charge of the game with a burst through after King played Zusi ahead down the right flank. Zusi cut back to the middle and played a cross along the ground to Garey who one-timed the shot to the lower-right corner for what would be the game-winner.

NCAA 2nd Round

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Senior Marc Burch's goal in the 26th minute of play was all the Terrapins would need as they held off Brown, 1-0, in the second round of the NCAA Tournament at Ludwig Field.

Brown started strong with a quick shot in the opening minutes that required a save from freshman Chris Seitz.

The Terps then started generate offense with dangerous crosses from Burch and Godbolt, but it wasn't until the two connected in the 26th minute. Godbolt controlled the ball just past midfield where he sent a pass to a streaking Burch in the middle of the field. Burch put a settling touch on the ball inside the box and fired a shot past Jarrett Leech to give Maryland the 1-0 lead.

The Terps did well to possess the ball early in the second half, but the Bears countered late with some quality chances. Keith Caldwell's corner kick in the waning minutes was put in front of the goal mouth and deflected toward the Terrapin goal, but Kenney Bertz was there to head the ball away and out of the Terrapin zone.

The Bears had six corner kicks on the night, five of those coming in the second half of action. Maryland held an 11-4 advantage in shots for the game, and the two teams just took five total in the second half.

NCAA Third Round

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Stephen King scored two goals and Marc Burch added two assists as the Maryland Terrapins downed St. John's, 3-1, in the third round of the NCAA Tournament. Goalkeeper Chris Seitz matched his career high with six saves.

King gave Maryland the 1-0 advantage after burying a 16-yard shot from the top of the box. On the play, Rogers dribbled the length of the field on the left flank before sending a cross into the box. With his back to the goal, Burch played a soft touch back to King who fired for the score at 11:50.

The Red Storm found the equalizer in the 20th minute after Tony Beltran sent a cross into the box. Matt Groenwald flicked the ball with a header to Sebastian Alvarado-Ralph who put a settling touch before finishing from 10 yards.

Seitz helped keep the game tied the rest of the way in the first half with two point-blank saves.

Maryland capitalized in the 63rd minute with another Burch-King connection. Burch worked himself free on the left flank and slotted a ball inside the box where King was in position for the goal.

Seitz saved a 25-yard Groenwald shot and stopped Georgios Spanos heel-shot to preserve the lead and hold off the SJU rally. Rogers tacked on a goal as time was expiring for the 3-1 final.

NCAA Quarterfinals

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- The Maryland Terrapins advanced to their fourth-straight College Cup after advancing on penalty kicks over Akron in front of 4,129 fans at Ludwig Field. The top-seeded Terps played the Zips to a 1-1 tie before winning 4-1 in PKs.

Maryland scored first on a Kenney Bertz goal to take the 1-0 lead, but Akron countered late with a score from Sinisa Ubiparipovic just before halftime to tie the score. The two teams traded chances throughout the rest of regulation and in overtime before moving on to penalty kicks.

Stephen King stepped up first and converted his try for Maryland. Akron's first shooter, Justin Sadler hit the post on his attempt. Goalkeeper Chris Seitz had a good jump on the shot and had the post covered if the shot was on frame. Chris Lancos and Yohann Mauger traded makes and Maurice Edu added another for Maryland, and Seitz again came up big with a save of Ossie Michalsen's shot. With a chance to end the game, Maryland's Marc Burch converted to give the Terps the 4-1 shootout victory.

Akron opened the game with two solid scoring chances within the first four minutes of action. Both chances were off set pieces but were saved by Seitz. Maryland then took control with solid possession and playing deep in the offensive third. Maryland's persistence paid off when the Terps were awarded a free kick just outside the box in the 21st minute. Chris Lancos sent the ball into the box where a Zip player attempted to clear the ball but hit it directly to the foot of Bertz who buried the shot for the score and a 1-0 lead.

Akron picked up its play toward the end of the first half and got the equalizer in the 44th minute. Sadler worked down on the right flank and sent a perfect cross to Ubiparipovic who hit the ball with his right foot to knot the score at 1-1, which held up through regulation and two overtime periods.

NCAA Semifinals

CARY, N.C. -- Maryland went ahead late in the first half and then blew the game open with three goals in just over two minutes in the second half to defeat SMU, 4-1, at SAS Soccer Complex in Cary, N.C.

Graham Zusi put the Terps on top just before the half ended, and the Terps exploded for three goals in just over two minutes to start the second half to put the game out of reach. Jason Garey scored back-to-back goals in the 47th minute (the fastest consecutive scores in NCAA Tournament history) and Stephen King added a penalty kick after Maurice Edu was taken down in the box in the 49th minute.

SMU countered on a goal from Paulo da Silva in the 55th minute after da Silva's shot deflected off a Terp defender and redirected into the score. For the game, the Terrapin defense (playing without senior anchor Kenney Bertz) allowed just seven shots. Freshman goalkeeper made five saves on the afternoon - including four in the first half.

The Terrapins controlled the early portion of the play creating opportunities for Garey. Garey took Maryland's first three shots in the game, one of which was cleared off the line by a SMU defender. The Mustangs countered with chances of their own putting a shot on goal on a free kick and a blast from Duke Hashimoto, but both were saved by Seitz.

SMU built two more dangerous chances in the box, but could not come up with the score. With time winding down in the first half, Glaudemans controlled the ball deep in the final third and worked to the endline where he sent a cross through the box that Zusi half-volleyed cleanly into the back of the net to give the Terps the 1-0 lead heading into the half.

Maryland jumped out quickly to start the second on Garey's 21st goal of the season. On the play, Robbie Rogers worked along the touchline and sent a cross to the near post where it was flicked to the far post to Garey for the score at 46:41. Just 15 seconds later, Edu stole a ball in the midfield and fed a streaking Garey where he beat the keeper for the 3-1 Terrapin lead. King capped off the Terp scoring with his 15th goal of the season on the penalty kick.

NCAA Finals

CARY, N.C. -- Marc Burch scored in the 31st minute and the goal stood up the rest of the way as the Maryland Terrapins claimed the 2005 NCAA championship, 1-0, Sunday afternoon over New Mexico. The Terps claimed their first national championship since 1968.

Jason Garey was named the tournament's offensive MVP, and Chris Seitz was the defensive MVP. Maryland is the first team since 1992 to win the tournament as the No. 1 seed and Seitz is the first freshman goalkeeper to lead his team to the championship since 1990.

The Lobos had the first good chance of the game early on a long throw-in and shot that was saved by Chris Seitz. The Terps then controlled the game and put pressure on the New Mexico defense getting several opportunities inside the 18-yard box. The Terps did not break through, though, until Burch's free kick put Maryland up 1-0 in the game's 31st minute. He took the free kick from 25 yards after Chris Lancos dribbled through the Lobo defense and was pulled down by a defender. Burch's free kick made it through the wall and rolled into the lower left corner of the net.

The Lobos countered with a pair of chances on a free kick of their own just outside the box. Seitz made a save on the shot and Josh Brown's rebound missed just right. New Mexico had another scoring opportunity several minutes later on a corner kick, but Andrew Boyens' header just sailed over the crossbar and the Terrapins took a 1-0 lead into halftime. Maryland held a sizeable 11-5 advantage in shots in the first 45 minutes.

New Mexico came out strong in the second half pushing forward and earned a penalty kick in the 50th minute after a Terp defender was called for a handball inside the box. Seitz got a beat on the shot and dove to his right and stopped the shot by Boyens.

Maryland had a chance to push it to 2-0 with a flurry of activity in the 61st minute. Burch drew the goalkeeper off his line and in a scramble, the ball shot out to Stephen King, but a Lobo defender cleared the ball off the line. The rebound went to Jason Garey, but his shot missed high.

The Terps held off the Lobos the rest of the way, limiting any chances for New Mexico. For the game Maryland out-shot New Mexico, 19-11.

For Burch, it was his second game-winner of the 2005 NCAA Tournament. He also had the game-winning assist against St. John's.

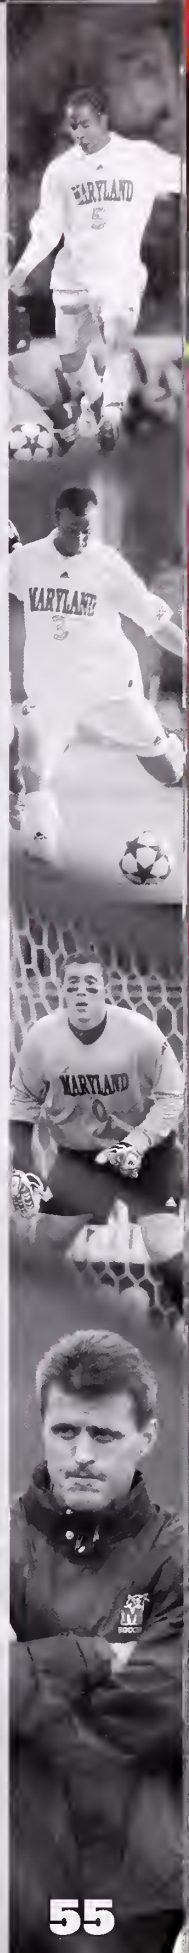
ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE



"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

2006 MARYLAND MEN'S SOCCER

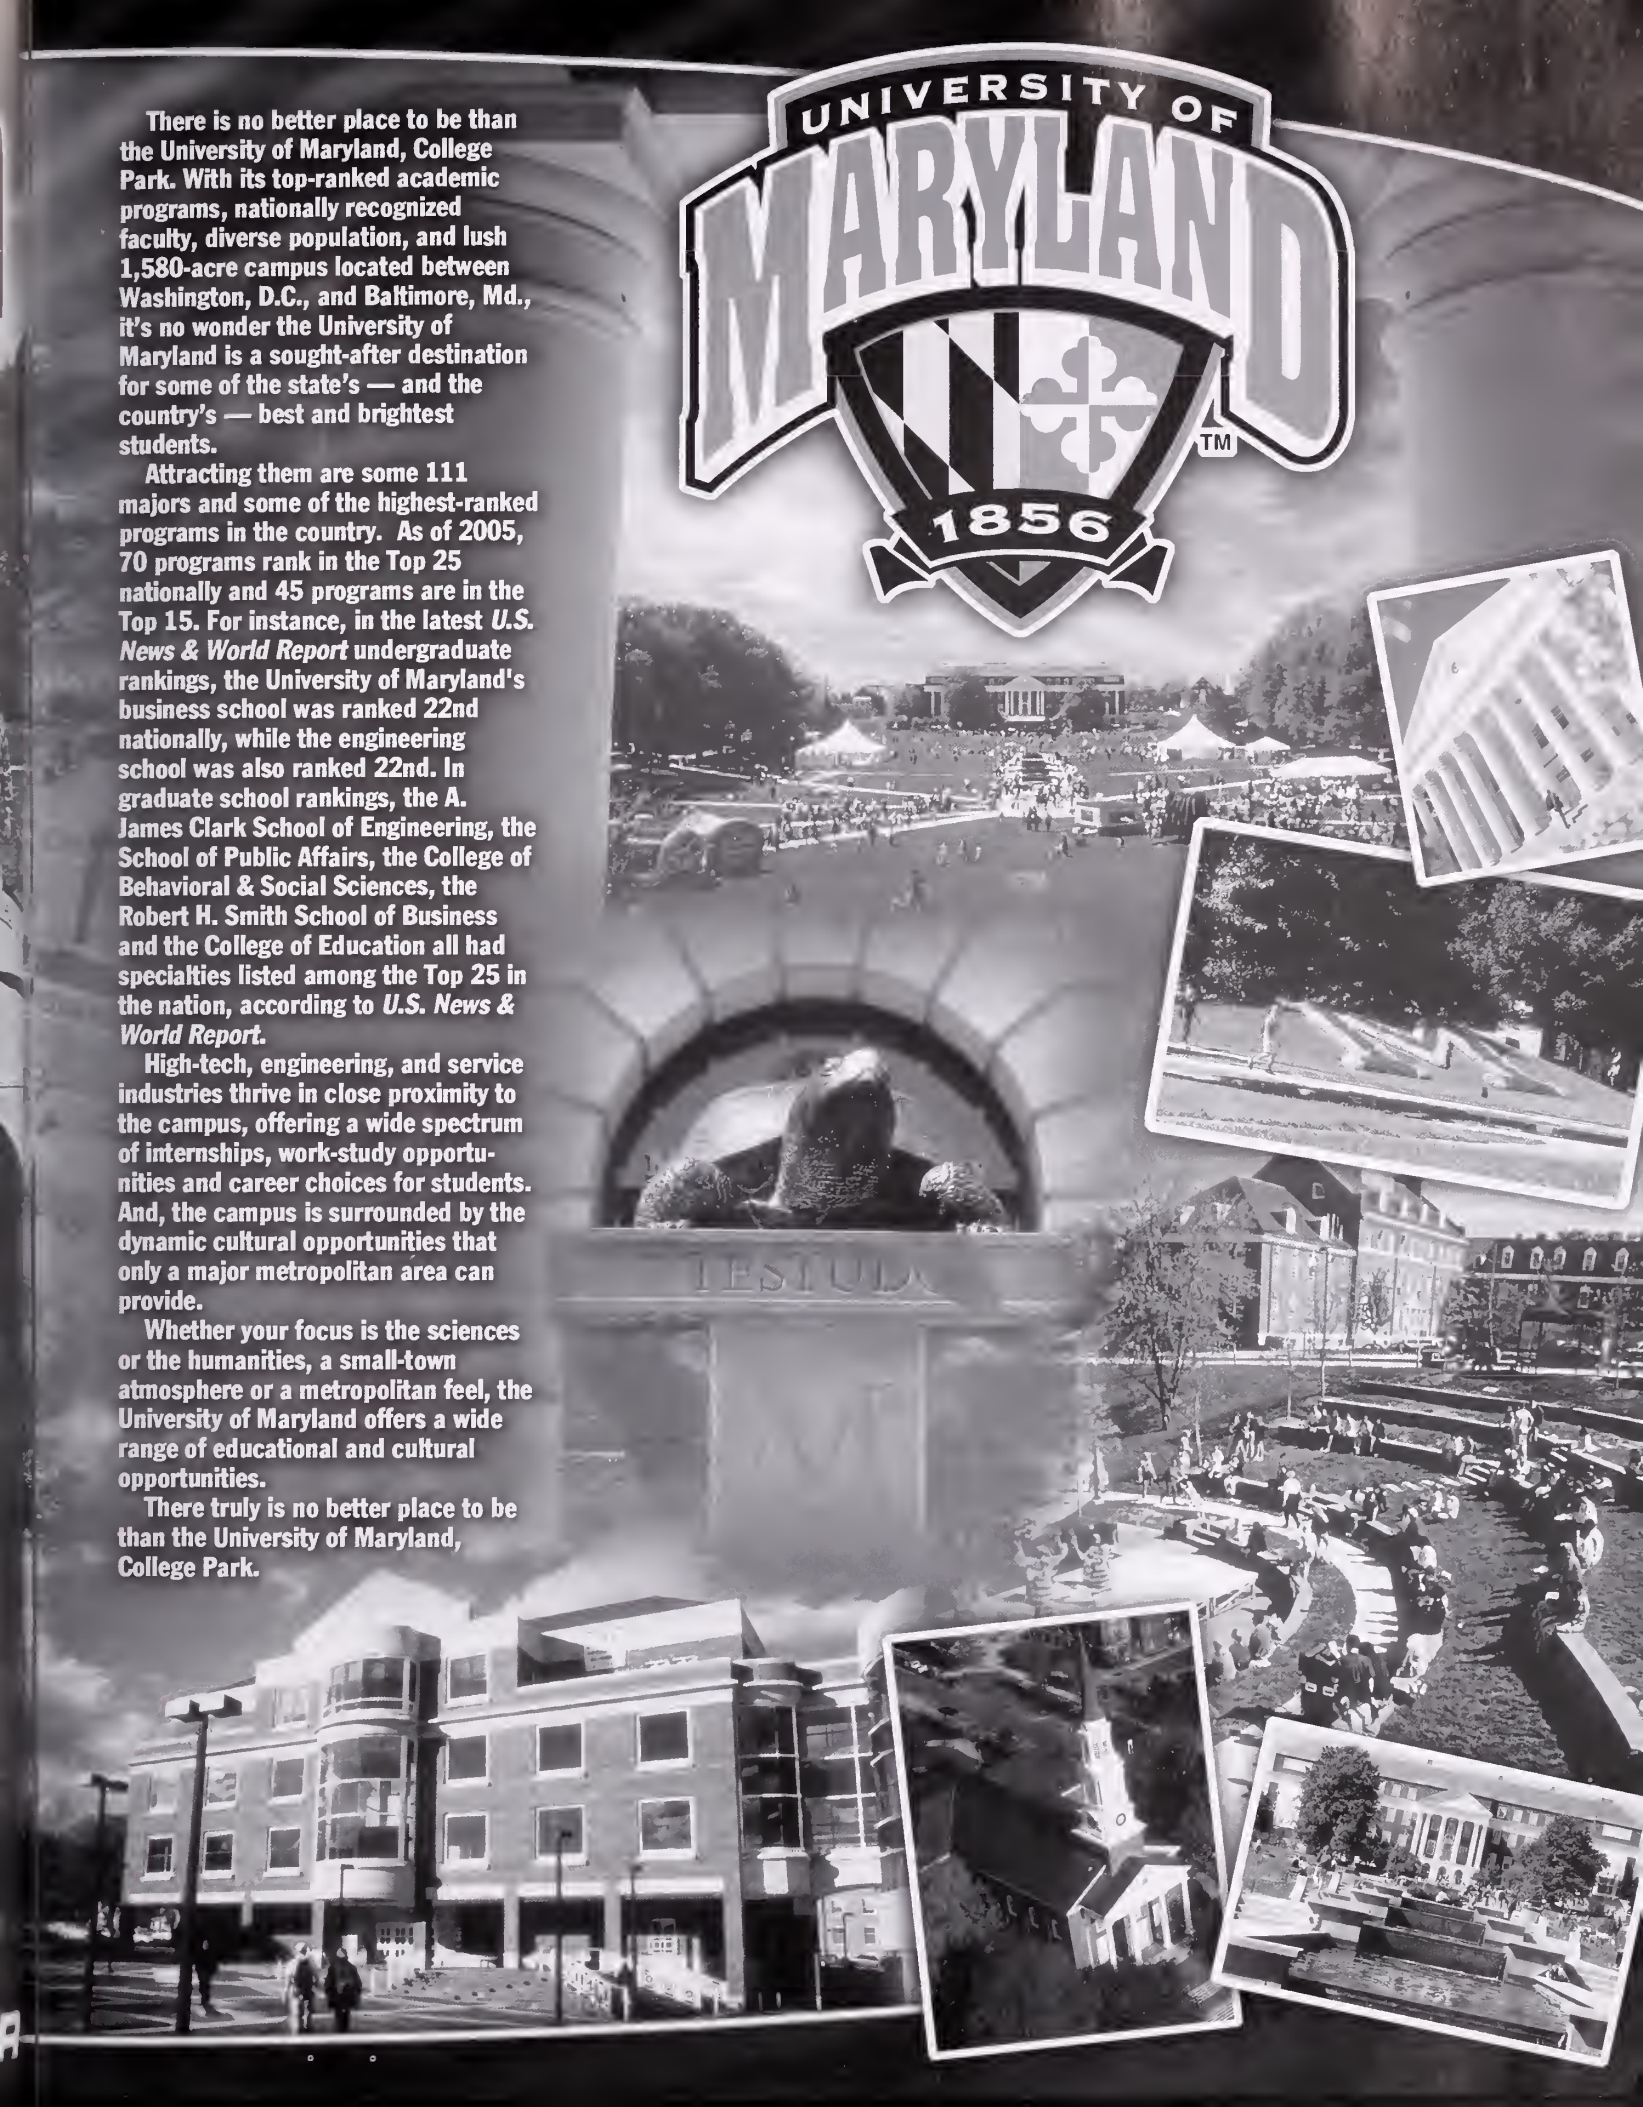
There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park. With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population, and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are some 111 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. As of 2005, 70 programs rank in the Top 25 nationally and 45 programs are in the Top 15. For instance, in the latest U.S. News & World Report undergraduate rankings, the University of Maryland's business school was ranked 22nd nationally, while the engineering school was also ranked 22nd. In graduate school rankings, the A. James Clark School of Engineering, the School of Public Affairs, the College of Behavioral & Social Sciences, the Robert H. Smith School of Business and the College of Education all had specialties listed among the Top 25 in the nation, according to U.S. News & World Report.

High-tech, engineering, and service industries thrive in close proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internships, work-study opportunities and career choices for students. And, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small-town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities.

There truly is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.



THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 76 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

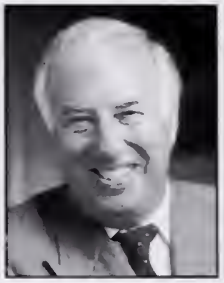
In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 76 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 16) and the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 27) were ranked among the top 30.



DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
EIGHTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state-of-the-art sports complex; a high-tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

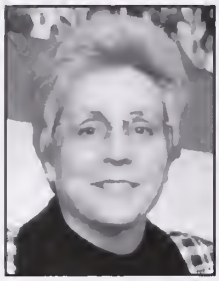
DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR · 13TH YEAR AT MARYLAND



Deborah A. Yow is in the 13th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought steady and continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 12 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 13 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored recently by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 12 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $52 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable four national championships during the 2005-06 academic season.
- In 2005-2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Graduation rates in football are near 80 percent and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only two universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford is the only other NCAA Division I institution to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,243 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four three times in the past four seasons.
- Field Hockey earned a National Championship in 2005-06 and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Men's Soccer has appeared in four consecutive Final Fours and won the NCAA National Championship in the 2005-06 season.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2005-06, 13 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 12 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT & CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

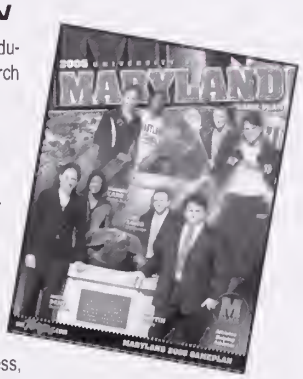
Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Laura Meckley (right) works with the men's soccer team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN



The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills PROGRAM

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Athletic Excellence To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

THE TRADITION

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 54th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 100 national championships, including 52 in women's competition and 48 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 130 times in men's competition and 71 times in women's action.

The conference continued to dominate the national men's soccer field as Maryland claimed its second NCAA title and the league's 11th in 2006. The Terrapins, making their 25th appearance in postseason play, led an ACC record of eight teams to the selected field of 48. The previous high was six, which was set in 2002.

Since 1953, the current ACC schools have made 137 NCAA Tournament appearances. Virginia has laid claim to five national titles over the Cavaliers' 27 showings.

In 2005, six of the eight teams that received a bid also earned a top 16 national seed, including Maryland, which was awarded the No. 1 overall seed. The other five national seeds were No. 4 North Carolina, No. 6 Duke, No. 12 Virginia Tech, No. 13 Virginia, and No. 14 NC State. Clemson and Wake Forest also made their 25th and 10th postseason appearance, respectively.

For the second year in a row, the ACC was represented by three teams in the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament. With Maryland, North Carolina and Clemson advancing to the 'Round of 8', the ACC was the only league with more than one of its schools contending in the quarterfinals. It also marked the fifth consecutive year that an ACC team played for a berth in the College Cup.

Duke picked up the 2005 ACC Tournament crown as the No. 5 seeded Blue Devils pulled off a 5-4 win in penalty kicks over No. 6 seed North Carolina at the SAS Soccer Complex, in Cary, N.C. Duke's Mike Grella netted the game-winning penalty kick in the sudden death portion of the shootout, giving the squad their second league title and first since 1999.

Seven ACC teams finished among the top 25 listed in both the Soccer America and NSCAA final 2005 polls. Eight teams tabbed the honor in Soccer America, while three teams were within the top 10. Duke remained in the top 10 throughout the season, finishing fourth. Maryland and North Carolina each earned top 10 finishes in Soccer America as the Terps came in sixth and the Tar Heels at No. 10.

Maryland's Jason Garey was named the 2005 MAC Hermann Trophy recipient after finishing his career as the Terp's all-time leading goal-scorer (60). Joining Garey on the 2005 Soccer America MVP list was the Clemson duo of Phil Marfuggi and Nathan Sturgis. Patrick Nyarko of Virginia Tech was named the ACC Freshman of the Year, while Maryland's Sasho Cirovski recorded his second ACC Coach of the Year recognition and fourth for the Terrapin program.

The nine schools that take to the field this fall under than ACC banner have garnered 197 first, second and third team NSCAA All-American distinctions and 65 additional honorable mention nods. The programs boast 19 national Player of the Year accolades, including 13 national Hermann Trophy recipients and five national Rookie of the Year honors.

2005-06 IN REVIEW

The 2005-06 academic year concluded with the league pocketing an all-time high six national team titles and 15 individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 57 national team titles over the last 16 years. The ACC has won two or more NCAA titles in 24 of the past 26 years.

2005-06 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Field Hockey	Maryland	Men's Lacrosse	Virginia
Men's Soccer	Maryland	Women's Golf	Duke
Women's Basketball	Maryland	Men's Outdoor Track & Field	Florida St.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2006-07 academic year - 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A HISTORY

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting July 1, 2005.
